the time designer

I'm Amera and i'm here to connect you to the future you're dreaming of. I work with youthful entrepreneurs in catalyzing creative connections between your brand, identity and relationships - you've built the one around you; i'm here to co-create you cultivating the one within you.

This platform is my opportunity to share my story with you - so, hello and welcome. Learn about my story and how it can shape yours.

My entrepreneurial journey kicked off as an overly involved college student with a burning passion for wanting more - out of life, out of my community and out of the power of potential. I desired more, so I created more. College introduced me to career paths beyond titles I thought were once my definition of successful. See it's always about the definition- in mind and in matter.

Just like you- I'm here to empower leaders through my personality and enthusiastic demeanor. Our connections connect us to unlimited access to our true power, purpose and potential - and i'm here to link you to the magic of it all - authentically, your way. That's the best part of my business - it's yours.

Present day, I am founder + designer of Suite Stores: Chapter 2021, owner of Eventistry & Co., and the author of my own story.
